Effective March 1st 2010, lesson prices are the following:

1 lesson	$35 per lesson
10 lessons	$30 per lesson	Savings $50
25 lessons	$25 per lesson	Savings $250
50 + lessons	$20 per lesson	Savings $750

Lesson billing; pass card tracking, and specifics:

1. Katie tracks all lessons in her appointment book, and logs a running total for each month.
2. Lesson packages never expire.
3. If our instructors are running late for your appointment, you will receive your 30 minute lesson as soon as possible. Equipment problems, sick horses, weather conditions, etc can contribute to our delays around the barn. If you are running late, your instructor reserves the right to shorten your lesson by as many minutes as you were late if she cannot afford to have her schedule delayed. Most of the time, we can accommodate someone running a few minutes late or your instructor may let you practice ride while she moves on to her next appointment.
4. If you do not show up or call to cancel your lesson, you will still be billed for that appointment.
5. If you own a horse that is in training, you will receive your lessons at no extra charge on the specific horse that you own. These lessons occur twice weekly unless other arrangements are made. These training lessons may not be saved if they are not used during each week.
6. If you own a horse that is in training and you take a lesson horse lesson for 30 minutes, your will be using one full lesson. Occasionally, lesson horse lessons are only 15 minutes long. In that situation, your lesson is considered a half lesson. If you have a variety of "quick" rides, these are billed as three rides for one ½ hour lesson.
7. Anyone who does not have a lesson package will be billed $35 per lesson the following month if billing arrangements have been made.

I hope you find these changes helpful. Please e-mail or call me if you have any questions. Katie
